

Annual Meeting Saturday, Jan. 12, 10 AM All Members and Friends Invited

All members of the Yates County Art Center (YCAC) are invited to come to our annual membership meeting on Saturday, January 12, at 10 AM. Join us for coffee and breakfast treats as we recount the year's accomplishments and elect our newest board members, and officers.

Nominees for board membership include Mary Harmony, Sandy Murrin, Elisabeth Haynes and Lois Agliata; nominations are also accepted from the floor. Proposed officers for 2008 include Ginny Deneka, President; Barbara Pinckney, and secretary; Bill Bailey, treasurer. Nominations for president elect are welcomed.

Major Grants Awarded YCAC from New York State Council on the Arts

Funds to partially support the executive director position, plus a generous grant to underwrite increased programming, have been awarded YCAC directly by NYSCA, the New York State Council on the Arts. Together these total $12,000.

Within the county, there are merely six establishments in the category of Arts, entertainment and recreation. YCAC is the only organization offering an expansive program of multi-media arts programming. By offering a variety of programming at different times of day throughout the year, by expanding our publicity and public outreach efforts, and by keeping our workshop fees low, we expect to help an even broader constituency come to think of YCAC as a place they can turn to for hands-on-cultural experiences.

YCAC provides intergenerational classes and will continue to expand its children's after school classes, and weekend and summer workshops. A summer youth Musical Theater Workshop will be continued. The installation of new audio and video equipment will enable YCAC to offer courses in Art history. These grants are the keystone to growth for the Yates County Arts Center in 2008.

Annual Board Retreat

YCAC's annual Board Retreat will be held on Wednesday, January 2, 2008 from 9AM until 3PM at the Cobblestone Springs Retreat Center at 4306 Lakemont-Himrod Road – north of Shannon Corners Road. Board members and nominees will spend that day talking about YCAC in 2008 and making some exciting plans. Working from 2008 calendars, they will apply their willingness to participate to our new thoughts and ideas. Cobblestone will provide lunch and coffee, as well as meeting spaces. This annual event focuses our leadership on our goals, creates a team approach, and always proves to be an energizing day.

The vision of YCAC is to enhance and enrich life in Yates County through education and the advancement of the arts.

To this end, we plan, promote, and develop art programs and projects; coordinate, schedule, and publicize events; develop and maintain physical facilities.

Programs of YCAC are supported by an annual grant from the Yates County Legislature, from commissions collected on Gallery sales, and by YCAC programs are supported in part with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts - Decentralization Program, which is administered locally by Finger Lakes Arts Grants & Services.

From our Executive Director:

Dear Members & Friends of Yates County Arts Center,

My sincere thanks for your support of the Yates County Arts Center during 2007. As Workshop Coordinator for several years, I have seen your support for our programs grow each year. In 2007 we were able to offer several new initiatives: Printmaking: Solarplate (Adults) and Simply Printmaking (Children), Oil Painting in the Old Masters Style, a week-long class in Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain, Pastel Landscape Painting, and Painting for Kids. Please let me know if you have any ideas for new classes you would like us to offer at YCAC during the upcoming year.

I look forward to serving you in my new role as Executive Director of Yates County Arts Center and will diligently work with the YCAC Board of Directors to continuously improve the organization and ensure YCAC's role as a vital and integral part of our community. As we begin the new year of 2008 I invite you to participate more fully in the programs and services at the Arts Center. Opportunities exist for volunteering as a docent or workshop assistant, learning a new artistic or craft skill, leadership roles, sharing your talents as an instructor, hosting an exhibit opening reception, distributing YCAC advertising brochures/cards, to name a few. Special thanks to all of you who already volunteer at YCAC. You are greatly appreciated and without you we would not exist.

Please contact me at fblik@htva.net or at 607-227-2475 if you have questions, suggestions, requests for classes to add to our schedule, or to offer to be a volunteer. I look forward to hearing from you.

Best wishes for a Happy New Year!

- Fran Blik, Executive Director

Gallery Closed for Annual Facelift During January
February Exhibit: "Escape from Winter"
 Paintings by Juanita Link and Glass Art by Manny Quinones

Reception Sunday, February 3, 1:00-3:00 PM

Bringing new artists into the Gallery is always exciting! For our February re-opening, Rochester area artist Juanita Link will be exhibiting at The Gallery for her first time, and Corning's Manny Quinones is returning after several years' absence.

Juanita Link is primarily an oil painter of realistic landscapes and seascapes. Recently, She also began painting in watercolors. She began drawing and painting as a child, took art in high school and classes at both the Albright Art School in Buffalo, N.Y. and at the State University of New York at Buffalo. After taking several years off to raise a family, she resumed painting.

Juanita has also taken many classes and workshops from artists we have known and loved, among them Judy Soprano, David Braun, Wendy Gwertzman, Bernie Gertsner, and Bing Thayer. She has exhibited at dozens of shows in Western New York, and has received awards ranging from honorable mention to best of show. Her paintings hang in private collections in several states and in Europe.

And here's what Manny says about his becoming an artist:

"The year was 1977 ( I think), the event was a class field trip , the place was Vitrix Hot Glass Studio in Corning NY. The music was blasting and three or four guys were running around the studio making ornaments at a frantic pace. It seemed the glass was flying everywhere and my eyes could barely keep up. Someone was talking but I wasn't listening. All I heard was, "so does anyone have any questions ?" I quickly raised my hand and asked "How can I get a job here ?" Someone laughed , "Does anyone have any other questions ?" No one did so we left.

"Fast forward ten years. I had forgotten about the class trip, until I really did need a job. I walked past Vitrix and thought " Yeah I remember that place." I applied twice and was turned down. The studio next door, Brand & Greenburg Glass hired me and I apprenticed under Alex Brand for 10 years. I ran my own studio for two years, Man E.Q. Glass. Also worked for Christian Thirion , Steuben

Glass , and Lost Angel Glass. I have studied under or taken workshops under Petr Novotny , Bill Underneath , and Lino Tagliapietra and others. As of yet I have no BFA , MFA or PHD. However

I am proud to say that I apprenticed in the old world style of hard work and acquisition of skill via the repetition of production work , no degree can get you that. I am a student of life and that should account for something.

"Guess what ? In 2005 Vitrix asked if I would come work for them. I said yes and if some little kid asks about getting a job I promise I wont laugh. I'll just smile and know. "

A note from Fran, of interest to those of you who have struggled with us to find adequate space, lighting, etc., for our workshops:

"Everyone I have spoken with loves the new upstairs work space, now that we have heat. Excerpts from ART HARDWARE: The Definitive Guide to Artists' Materials, by Steven Saitzyk © 1987

You would be outraged if someone brought into your home industrial solvents, chemicals containing high concentrations of heavy metals, and coal-tar derivatives-in other words, materials known to cause nerve damage, emotional disorders, and cancer. Yet, as an artist, you commonly bring such materials into your living and working environment, and then proceed to bathe your hands in them, breath their dusts or vapors, or ingest them, allowing these toxic materials to contaminate your body and your environment. Unfortunately, there is a long history of artists poisoning themselves. Over the years it has become so commonplace for artists to damage their health with their materials that the stereotype of an artist's personality consists of chronic depression, irritability, aberrant behavior, frequent colds or flulike symptoms, low back pain, and headaches. These characteristics are the symptoms of low-level poisoning, as well as of psychological stress. However, most art dealers, historians, and collectors tend to attribute these aberrations to creative genius. Van Gogh is a prime example of the way poisoning may have affected not only the artist's health but the appearance of his artwork as well. One of the symptoms of lead poisoning, from which he was certainly suffering, is the swelling of the retina of the eye, which is said to give the illusion that objects have halos around them.
